

PRESS RELEASE

Secret, Wardle, Lynch, Hampton, Truex & Morley, P.C. is pleased to announce that Drew Broaddus, an experienced appellate attorney, recently joined the firm's appellate department.

After obtaining his B.A. from Alma College, Mr. Broaddus attended Valparaiso University School of Law where he obtained his law degree, cum laude, in 2002. While attending V.U. he was associate editor for the Law Review, President of the International Law Society, and received course honors in Labor Law, Corporate Finance and Law & Economics. Additionally, he served as a research clerk to law professors wherein he conducted extensive review of new case law relative to the Americans with Disabilities Act, Family Medical Leave Act, and other employment and civil rights statutes.

Mr. Broaddus is a member of the State Bar of Michigan and the Michigan State Bar's Public Corporation Law Section. His involvement with this Section includes publishing two articles; one regarding exclusionary zoning as analyzed in recent decisions of the Court of Appeals and the other focused on the possibility of Michigan courts moving toward a "shocks the conscience" standard for land use claims.

For further information regarding Drew Broaddus or to read his published articles, please click Drew Broaddus or contact him at (248) 539-2807.